

I would like to see stiffer laws on telemarketing calls. Telemarketers tend to call either when my family is eating or when my children are asleep, which can wake them. My wife and I refuse to deal with any form of telemarketing. When they call it is a very intrusive annoyance. Indiana has a good Telephone Privacy law but it could be a little more strict.